

Mission Narrative

drafted so far:

“We are a community of seekers hungry to do God’s work. We seek to be filled with Christ – he is everything we are and everything we want to be. We seek to imitate Mary by humbly following her Son through catechesis, evangelization, communion, spiritual stewardship and a missionary spirit that points the way to her Son.

At the Wedding Feast at Cana, Mary directed the servants to “Do whatever he tells you.” As servants, we seek to be a parish that is attentive to guests, active and engaged in the celebration of liturgy and provide a witness to the works of Christ while showing that the wine is good.

We are a community of English-speaking and Spanish-speaking Catholics, all from very diverse ethnic and cultural backgrounds. As Mary visited her cousin Elizabeth, we seek to visit and know one another across divides of age and personal history. Knowing each other, we invite one another to engage, step out of our comfort zones, and give of ourselves.

Like the frantic parents Joseph and Mary searching the city for their son, we search out the child Jesus in those who have drifted away, helping them rediscover Jesus.
